This training event is aimed at those who are looking for professional development in the area of conducting funerals and effectively ministering through them. Presented by Allan Anderson, the day will cover the following areas:

The funeral as a rite of passage

Discussing the pastoral and spiritual role played by rites of passage. Considering rites of passage surrounding death and how we can create and develop these as pastoral implements.

The funeral as a pastoral and missional event

Provides an insight into the understanding and formulation of a response to those who in a time of loss seek these services.

The funeral as a pastoral event – before & after the service

Establishing a modus operandi for a pastoral response to bereavement.

Elements of a funeral service

Preparing and conducting a funeral service .

What every funeral director wishes ministers knew

Some insights into the funeral event from the perspective of a funeral director. Developing a team relationship for the benefit of those who grieve.
